

Subject: English

Class: X

Topic: Footprints Without Feet. Ch.1: - ‘A Triumph of Surgery’.

OBJECTIVES	METHODOLOGY	STUDENTS’ ACTIVITY	PRACTICE QUESTIONS	EVALUATION	LEARNING OUTCOMES
Students will be able to 1.Enhance their appreciation for prose. 2. Understand the message conveyed through the story that over-indulgence and excess is detrimental to health. 3. Identify the use of ‘literary devices’ (simile, metaphor, hyperbole, etc.) in the story.	1. Provide detailed explanation of the chapter. 2. Assist the students to comprehend the theme of the story. 3. Point out the use of ‘ literary devices’ in the poem and the manner in which they enhance the beauty of the story 4. Assist students to express their opinion about the questions in a coherent manner and with appropriate expression.	1.Read the story on their own, pay attention to the given explanation. 2. Seek further explanation to enhance understanding of the literary devices employed in the story. 3. Participate in the class discussion to determine the most appropriate answers to the given set of questions and additional practice questions. 4. Express their opinion about the ‘content’ that should be included in the answer. 5. Write the answers in their notebooks.	1. In what way was Mrs. Pumphrey like a parent blinded by love for her child? How can such love be counterproductive? 2. Tricki is a victim of over-indulgence. Comment. 3. Compare and contrast Tricki in the beginning and in the end of the story ‘A Triumph of Surgery’.	1.Oral tests 2.Written tests 3. Classroom discussions based on textual topics. 4. Notebook evaluation	1. The students will have learnt the taught topic and can appreciate prose writing. 2.They can identify the use of literary devices and theme of the story. 3.They can provide appropriate answers which include the required ‘content and expression’.