

The Shed

Frank Flynn

About the Poet:

- Francis Stanislaus Flynn AC FRACO was a northern territory- based Australian doctor, author and missionary priest.
- He is notable for his contributions to religion, medicine and Aboriginal welfare.
- He was born in 1906 and passed away in 2000.

About the poem:

- The poet starts by talking about a shed, a mysterious room at the bottom of the garden.
- Flynn, the poet, talks about its pathetic condition which has a spider's web, rusty and creaky window.
- He then goes on to say that his brother tells that there's a ghost in that shed.
- The poet ends the poem on a positive note by saying that sooner or later he will enter that shed for sure.
