- Really a strange Experience
- Not written earlier
- No one including herself will be interested
- But feels the need to write..to get things out of her chest.
- Paper is more patient.
- Says feels the need because she has no friends.
- Alone in this world
- Calls her Diary Kitty.

- Father an adoreable man.
- Margot ,her sister.
- Edith Frank
- Grandmother, who died...Anne missed her every single day.

- Meeting with the Teacher to decide who moves up and who is kept back.
- Anne Goes to the next class.
- Thinks the a quarter of the class should stay back and teachers were generous to let students move.
- Does not like maths

- The story about Mr. Keesing.

Anne wrote

Mr Keesing, the old fogey who teaches maths, was annoyed with me for ages because I talked so much. After several warnings, he assigned me extra homework. An essay on the subject, 'A Chatterbox'. A chatterbox — what can you write about that? I'd worry about that later, I decided. I jotted down the title in my notebook, tucked it in my bag and tried to keep quiet.

Anne wrote a three pages

She argues that talking is a student's trait and that she would try her best to keep it under control.

But that was not a cure Anne says. She says that she has inherited this trait from her mother.

Second time the topic was incorrigible Chatterbox

Third Time the topic was Quack Quack Quack, Said Mistress Chatterbox.

Anne Wrote a poem with a help of a friend. The poem was about a father swan who ate her ducklings because they quacked so much.

Mr. Keesing understood the message Anne wanted to give him. He was a changed man after reading the poem.
