

Activity-1

Ask students to study the cartoon strips (either handout or smartboard) and get their reactions.

Cartoons on Power Sharing

Students and their reactions on the Topic of Power Sharing →

← The thoughts and views of students on Why Power sharing is Important?

Why is power sharing important in politics?

Power sharing helps to reduce the possibility of conflict between social groups. It is a good way to ensure the stability of political orders.

Through power sharing people take direct participation in the system.

- Sahil Jaiswal

Power sharing is the very spirit of democracy. It is one of the pillars of democracy. A democratic rule involves sharing power with those affected by its exercise and who have to live with its effects, i.e., the common people. It also helps in reducing the possibility of social conflicts.

- NARJEE KOTHARI, X-B

Why is Power-sharing important?

Power sharing is important because a group of people when share power and give their opinions, it leads to better decision making. A single person if makes the decision it can easily be biased.

Not sharing powers could be unfair for certain people and beneficial for others. It could lead to conflicts among social groups.

- HARSHVI KOTHA

Power sharing is important because:

- It is not fair to let anyone be at the peak of power. So it is only sensible to divide the power among different social groups to avoid conflict.
- In case of absolute power, the citizens of the country might or might not get the chance to put forward their views and opinions. It is one of the basic ideals of democracy.
- In case of hierarchical government, where the 3 institutions namely the executive, legislative and the judiciary are important to make they can keep an eye on each other, ensuring proper running of the democracy.

SAHITHI PATEL
X-B

If there is no power sharing, particularly in a country like India, there is a high chance of conflict, tension and violation of rights. It is for this reason that power sharing is important. It ensures peace and cooperation between different communities and acts as a safeguard against division and disunity. It also ensures political stability and order. It is a democratic solution to conflicts between different communities.

Power sharing is important because it reduces the possibility of conflict between the ruling and opposition parties. It helps in maintaining political stability. The very spirit of democracy is power sharing. Through power sharing people take direct participation and express their views, vote to make it happen. It also allows minorities a fair share in power and makes sure no government can rule for longer periods of time on an authoritarian basis.

Power sharing helps to reduce the possibility of conflict between social groups. And since social conflict often leads to violence and political instability, power sharing is a good way to ensure stability of political order.

- Divya Kulkarni, 10-B

POWER SHARING

Power sharing is important to prevent violence between different social groups. It helps in maintaining peace and helps people to live with harmony. Power sharing between various groups including the minority in the country helps to strengthen unity. Power sharing is the very basic spirit of democracy.

Aradhya Agarwal 10-B

Separation of power in Democracy is necessary as it balances the power and different departments check each other so that the government does not become autocratic. So the makers of the constitution make separation of power to balance the judiciary, executive and legislature politically.

- Veer Patel

Power sharing brings up the good changes in governance. It also solves conflicts in the country with the interdependence of every organization. It also helps to control the country's matters easily with people's approval.

SAHITHI PATEL
X-B

Power sharing is important because it reduces the possibility of conflict between the ruling and opposition parties. It helps in maintaining political stability. The very spirit of democracy is power sharing. Through power sharing people take direct participation and express their views, vote to make it happen. It also allows minorities a fair share in power and makes sure no government can rule for longer periods of time on an authoritarian basis.

Power sharing helps to reduce the possibility of conflict between social groups. And since social conflict often leads to violence and political instability, power sharing is a good way to ensure stability of political order.

- Divya Kulkarni, 10-B

Power sharing is important because it reduces the possibility of conflict between the ruling and opposition parties. It helps in maintaining political stability. The very spirit of democracy is power sharing. Through power sharing people take direct participation and express their views, vote to make it happen. It also allows minorities a fair share in power and makes sure no government can rule for longer periods of time on an authoritarian basis.

Power sharing helps to reduce the possibility of conflict between social groups. And since social conflict often leads to violence and political instability, power sharing is a good way to ensure stability of political order.

- Divya Kulkarni, 10-B

Power sharing is important because it reduces the possibility of conflict between the ruling and opposition parties. It helps in maintaining political stability. The very spirit of democracy is power sharing. Through power sharing people take direct participation and express their views, vote to make it happen. It also allows minorities a fair share in power and makes sure no government can rule for longer periods of time on an authoritarian basis.

Power sharing helps to reduce the possibility of conflict between social groups. And since social conflict often leads to violence and political instability, power sharing is a good way to ensure stability of political order.

- Divya Kulkarni, 10-B

Power sharing is important because it reduces the possibility of conflict between the ruling and opposition parties. It helps in maintaining political stability. The very spirit of democracy is power sharing. Through power sharing people take direct participation and express their views, vote to make it happen. It also allows minorities a fair share in power and makes sure no government can rule for longer periods of time on an authoritarian basis.

Power sharing helps to reduce the possibility of conflict between social groups. And since social conflict often leads to violence and political instability, power sharing is a good way to ensure stability of political order.

- Divya Kulkarni, 10-B

Power sharing is important because it reduces the possibility of conflict between the ruling and opposition parties. It helps in maintaining political stability. The very spirit of democracy is power sharing. Through power sharing people take direct participation and express their views, vote to make it happen. It also allows minorities a fair share in power and makes sure no government can rule for longer periods of time on an authoritarian basis.

Power sharing helps to reduce the possibility of conflict between social groups. And since social conflict often leads to violence and political instability, power sharing is a good way to ensure stability of political order.

- Divya Kulkarni, 10-B

Power sharing is important because it reduces the possibility of conflict between the ruling and opposition parties. It helps in maintaining political stability. The very spirit of democracy is power sharing. Through power sharing people take direct participation and express their views, vote to make it happen. It also allows minorities a fair share in power and makes sure no government can rule for longer periods of time on an authoritarian basis.

Power sharing helps to reduce the possibility of conflict between social groups. And since social conflict often leads to violence and political instability, power sharing is a good way to ensure stability of political order.

- Divya Kulkarni, 10-B

Power sharing in a democracy helps in reducing the possibility of conflict between different social groups. It provides political stability and order. Moreover, it gives the people the right to be consulted and all citizens tend to have the same political and legal rights.

- SARA KOTCHA
X-B

An individual might not be able to do a work alone, therefore working in groups. Power sharing is important in politics too. One should not have all the power, it must be distributed amongst a group.

Aradhya Agarwal 10-B

Power sharing is important in politics because it helps to reduce the possibility of conflict between social groups. Power sharing ensures the stability of political order. A democratic rule involves power sharing with those, affected by its exercise, and who have to live with its effects.

HARSHIKA TAWAR X-B

Power sharing is the need in democracy because:

- It gives people the right to be consulted on how they should be governed and all citizens tend to have the same political and legal rights.
- It helps in reducing the possibility of conflict among the social groups. It is a good way to ensure stability of political order.

Thus, it can be said that power sharing is the spirit of democracy.

RATVI MODI

Power sharing is the need of the hour. It minimizes the threat of having social division among divergent social groups. Hence, it also diminishes the chance of anarchy and governmental and constitutional breakdown.

- MISHIKA GOYAL
X-B

Power sharing is a good because it helps to reduce the possibility of conflict between social groups. Since social conflict often leads to violence and political instability, power sharing is a good way to ensure the stability of political order. Power sharing is the very spirit of democracy.

Kavya Kulkarni X-B

Power sharing among democracies to make every section of democracy can do its work effectively without any pressure of the other section. Our government is divided into the Judiciary, Executive and Legislature. Having laws and implementation of laws and some of these sections.

- SARA KOTCHA
X-B

The need of power in democracy is necessary because if only one individual has all the power then the situation could be the same as in a dictatorship. But in a democracy, the power of the legislature under the guidance of the people, the executive, legislative and judiciary branches are divided so that the government does not become autocratic.

Aradhya Agarwal 10-B

Power sharing is the need in democracy because:

- It helps in reducing the possibility of conflict between the social groups. Since social conflict often leads to violence and political instability, power sharing is a good way to ensure the stability of political order.

ARADHYA AGARWAL X-B

Power sharing helps to reduce the possibility of conflict between social groups. It provides political stability and order. Moreover, it gives the people the right to be consulted and all citizens tend to have the same political and legal rights.

- SARA KOTCHA
X-B

Power sharing is very important in a democratic country like India. It is the right of each man and woman to have a say in the government and make the laws which will be applied by the courts. Power sharing is a good way to ensure the stability of political order. Power sharing is the very spirit of democracy.

Kavya Kulkarni X-B

Power sharing is important because it helps to reduce the possibility of conflict between social groups. It provides political stability and order. Moreover, it gives the people the right to be consulted and all citizens tend to have the same political and legal rights.

- SARA KOTCHA
X-B

Power sharing is the need in democracy because:

- It helps in reducing the possibility of conflict between the social groups. Since social conflict often leads to violence and political instability, power sharing is a good way to ensure the stability of political order.

ARADHYA AGARWAL X-B

Power sharing is important because:

- Division of power is the most important ideal of a democracy. Power sharing of power between legislative, executive and judiciary. It is important so that different bodies can point their mistakes and help them to rectify it.
- Power should be shared with the underprivileged sections of the society to prevent the dominance of the privileged society.

- Aradhya Agarwal 10-B

In any democratic country, power sharing is a necessity as well as a need. It not only helps in reducing the possibility of conflict between social groups but also ensures the political stability and order. Power sharing is a good way to ensure the stability of political order.

Aradhya Agarwal 10-B

Power sharing is important in politics because it helps to reduce the possibility of conflict between groups. Power sharing ensures the stability of political order. A democratic rule involves power sharing with those, affected by its exercise, and who have to live with its effects.

- HARSHIKA TAWAR
X-B

What is Power Sharing? ● —

power-sharing

/ˈpaʊəˌʃɛːrɪŋ/

noun

a policy agreed between political parties or within a coalition to share responsibility for decision-making and political action.

"he appealed to them to accept the power-sharing compromise"

Power Sharing in India

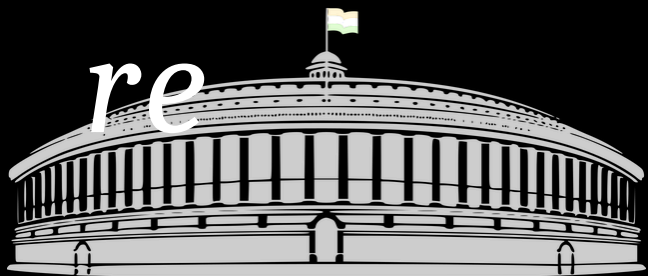

Power sharing means the distribution of power among the organs of the government such as the legislature, executive, and judiciary. Power sharing helps in achieving the stability of political order.

India is a democratic country. People of India elect their representative through direct franchise. After that, people's representatives elect the government to make or amend rules & regulations and to carry out day to day functioning of governance. One basic principle of democracy is that people are the source of all political power. In a democracy, people rule themselves through institutions of self-governance. In a good democratic government, due respect is given to diverse groups and views that exist in a society. Everyone has a voice in the shaping of public policies. Therefore, it follows that in a democracy political forms of power sharing should be distributed among as many citizens as possible.

Indian Government

Legislature

PARLIAMENT OF INDIA

Judiciary

Executive

Union Public
Service Commission

Vertical Division of Power in India

Union

Government

State

Government

Local Government