

SILK ROAD

Nick Middleton

The purpose of the author's journey to Mount Kailash

'Silk Road' refers to a network of overland routes linking Europe with Asia.

chronicles the challenges and hardships he faced in the Silk Road

Tibetan mastiffs were popular in China's imperial courts.

Tsetan was a good Buddhist and believed that death was not the end of life.

Author's meeting with Norbu

disappointed with Darchen

The sensitive behaviour of hill-folk-quite unsophisticated and innocent.

Religious and God-fearing.

Kora = Walk all the way round, circumambulate
Droka = shepherd