

BEAUTY (E-YEH-SURE)

ABOUT THE POET

- E-YEH-SHURE was born in 1926, New Mexico, United States.
- Even known as – Louise Abeita Chewiwi or Blue corn.
- American writer, poet and educator.
- Famous work – “I am a pueblo Indian Girl”

BEAUTY

Beauty is seen
In the sunlight,
The trees, the birds,
Corn growing and people working
Or dancing for their harvest.

Beauty is heard
In the night,
Wind sighing, rain falling,
Or a singer chanting
Anything is earnest

Beauty is in yourself.
Good deeds, happy thoughts
That repeat themselves
In your dreams,
In your work,
And even in your rest.

STANZA 1 EXPLANATION

- The poet says that the beauty can be seen in the sunlight, trees, birds, in corn growing, people working and dancing for the harvest. The people dance joyfully for their harvest.

STANZA 2 EXPLANATION

- Now the poet is talking about how beauty can be heard. According to her beauty can be heard at night when the wind sighs and when the rain falls and when a singer sings in earnest from the core of his heart.

STANZA 3 EXPLANATION

- The poet says in the concluding stanza that beauty lies in ourselves; in good deeds, happy thoughts which are repeated in our dreams and in our work and even in our rest.

SUMMARY

- Beauty gives pleasure to all our senses. It can be noticed in the sunlight, the trees, the birds and the dancing groups. The people dance joyfully for their harvest. Beauty can be heard in night or some singer sings merrily. Beauty shows itself in our noble actions and good ideas. Beauty is also repeated in one's dreams and deeds, and even when one rests.

