

TREES

POET

SHIREY BAUERS

Shirley Bauers was born 17th October in 1944 .

She was a nurse by profession.

She wrote some poems also. She died in the year 2011 on 17th May.

SUMMARY

The poem Trees gives a beautiful description of the different advantages of the trees . Trees are the sources of sustaining life.

The poet
says that the trees
are for birds
who make their nests
upon them .

Trees play an important part in the life of children. They love to play around them, they make tree houses upon them, they swing on the swings and they also love to play hide and seek behind them.

Trees are loved by the grown-ups also. They love to do parties and picnics under the trees.

Trees look beautiful when the wind blows through them . Sometimes the kites flying the sky gets torn and finds rest in the trees.

Trees provide us shades
from the
scorching heat of the sun
during summer and this shade is not needed
during the winter.

Trees
provide us
various kinds of fruits like apples and pears.

We get timber
from the trees from which we made different kinds of furniture.

Mothers
say that we can paint beautiful
pictures of trees.

Leaves of the trees are also very useful . The fallen leaves also provide income to many people.

Thus we can see that how trees play an important role in our lives.

