

MAKING POTS

Hello! Will you like to be my friend?

I am a Potter: this is my wheel

This is my kiln.

Here I make my pots and bricks strong as your teachers make you strong in school through various activities.

I am a mud pot.

I have to pass through burning fire to become strong.

So children, never be scared of hard work .

That will make you strong.

If you don't have wheel don't worry, you can give me in any shape with your hands and love.

More love you shower more beautiful
I become.

These are some of my beautiful shapes.
You can also shape your and your friends life with good thoughts.

I will take the shape of a beautiful suraahi to serve cool water to needy.

Life is there to help others you get immense happiness.

You can decorate me as you like.
You can also decorate your life by being sweet to others.
your life will also become beautiful like me.

I burn my self in tandoor to give you tasty nan, so learn - always be ready to give.

Lets work together to achieve our aim.

ACTIVITY 1- PURIFY THE WATER -

1) sand 2) coal 3) water

Zeer pot is a simple fridge

Activity 2:

The zeer pot is a simple fridge made of local materials. It consists of one earthenware pot set inside another, with a layer of wet sand in between.

As the moisture evaporates it cools the inner pot, keeping up to 12kg of fruit and vegetables fresher for longer.

Mud on which every one walks, becomes so beautiful and useful if given a chance!

Things to know

- When man lived in the jungles he learnt how to make the earthen pots.
- The mud pots were not strong they used to break fast and could not store water. He had no idea of fire and to bake the pot.
- Man did not know the use of wheel also so he made it by hand.
- Later on man learnt to bake the mud pots and they became more useful to him.

The pots not only teach us to remain cool but also tell us to live with patience

- ✓ Why we should clean the mud – To remove the dirt and to take the finest particles of mud to make me.
- ✓ So we should also take away all dirt of greed, jealous and anger to become a beautiful person like this.
