

Learning activity:

students will observe different objects around them and compare what is heavy and what is light. Make flash cards with the image of the object you classified heavy or light.