

The tailor and his Friend

Kalu the tailor had a shop near the river. He made colourful pants and shirts for children. Appu the elephant was his friend. Appu came to his shop everyday. Kalu gave him many nice things to eat.

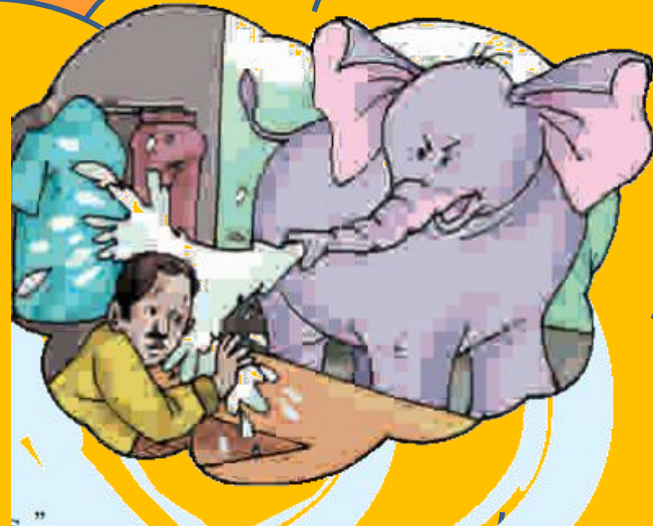

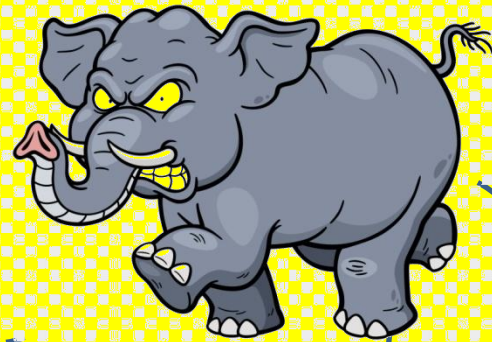

One day Kalu wanted to play a trick. He did not give Appu anything to eat. He took out his needle instead and pricked Appu's trunk. Appu ran away in pain.

Two days later Appu came down to the river

Elephant sucked the mud as much as he can and walked towards the tailor shop.

He reached Kalu's shop and threw
water everywhere.
All the new clothes
became wet.

Appu shook his trunk and said “An elephant never forgets.” Kalu said, “I am sorry, Appu. Let’s be friends again.” Kalu and Appu became good friends.

Summary

This is the story of a tailor named Kalu and his friend Appu, an elephant. Kalu used to make colourful pants and shirts for children. Whenever Appu came to his shop he always used to give him something to eat. One day Kalu pricked a needle in Appu's trunk playfully. Appu went away in anger.

He wants to teach a lesson to Kalu. Two days later, he filled his trunk with water and spread it in Kalu's shop. And all the new clothes became wet. Kalu accepted his fault and learned the lesson as they both became friends again.

We should learn here

The chapter “The Tailor and His Friend” teaches kids that one should not hurt animals. In the story, there’s a tailor who has befriended an elephant. The story is about how the man plays a prank on the elephant and receives a similar reaction from the elephant.

New words

- Tailor- a person who stitches clothes
- Shop- from where one can buy things
- Trick- a mischief
- Pricked- pressed into
- Trunk- long nose of elephant
- Threw- shot away
- Forget- which can not be remembered

Animals can be friends
Thank you

THANK YOU

