

Why?

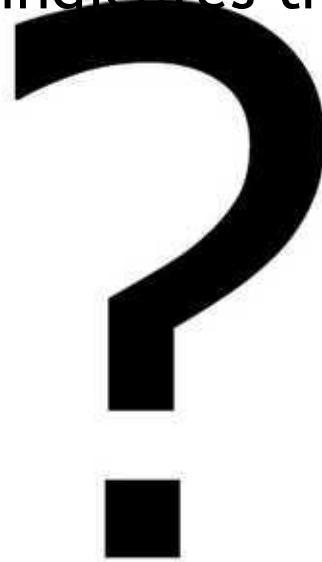

Explanation of stanza 1

The poet says that he knows a little boy who is curious , always asking question about anything and everything. He is very curious and anxious to know something about everything .” why this”, “why that”, “why not”, “why now”. and other similar question about everything he come across.

Explanation of stanza -2

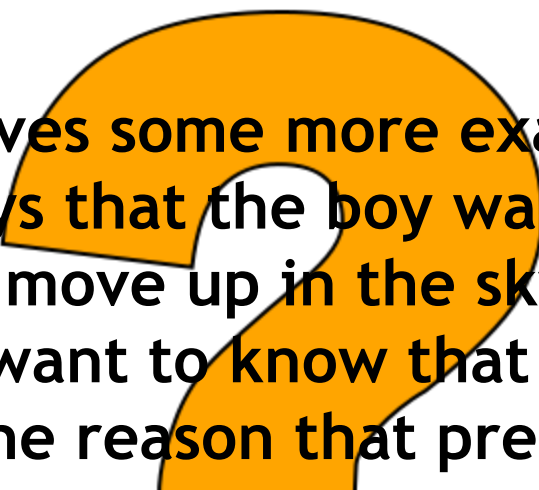

In this stanza the poet further describes the queries of the little boy. He ask question why does wood swim in water while lead and marble sink In it. This question asked by him indicates that his imagination is very Strong. He has good observation skills.

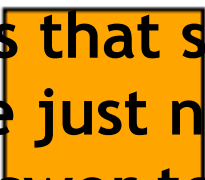

Explanation of stanza-3

In this stanza the poet gives some more examples of the question asked by the little boy. He says that boy wants to know what clouds are made up of and why they move in the sky, unlike all the other things that move on the ground. He also wants to know that at sunset, why does the sun disappear behind the hills and what the reason that the pretty flowers in the garden die all of a sudden,

Explanation of Stanza -4

In this stanza the, the poet gives some more examples of the questions Asked by the little boy. He says that the boy want to know what are clouds made up of and what do they move up in the sky, unlike all other things that Move on the ground. He also want to know that at sunset ,why does sun disappear Behind the hills and what is the reason that pretty flowers die all of the Sudden.

In this stanza the poet says that some of these question asked by the Child is not difficult to answer . We just need to think a little about it and can Satisfy the child's curiosity .But answer to some other question is not even Known to us as we have not pondered over them.

New /difficult words

Curious

a person want to know or learn something .

Lead

here(used to symbolize something heavy).

Marble

used to symbolize something hard.

Sink

to go below the surface or to bottom of a liquid.

Hard

Difficult to understand and solve

Reason

Explanation for the answer.

Thank you

Made by- Garima Srivastava