

THE STORY OF ROAD

By: Poile Sengupta

A photograph of a two-lane asphalt road winding through a lush green valley. The road has white dashed lines on the sides and a yellow dashed line in the center. In the background, there are rolling hills and mountains under a cloudy sky. The word "SUMMARY" is written in large, red, outlined letters across the top of the image.

SUMMARY

The story talks about a road who gets wake up in the morning, with a chirping sound of birds. It welcomes everyone on its path. First comes the newspaper boy by making a sound of tring-a-ling on his bicycle. Then comes the vegetable man who says different name of vegetables like tomato, cucumber and cauliflower and at last with a sound of tramp-tramp here comes the children who are going to school. The crow always tries to wake up the road but in the end road replies, "I am already awake".
